The company started making bicycles in 1893. Founders were Eduard and Jules Scheffer. Responsible for the motorcycle side of the company was Otto Fricker, who became the son in law of Eduard Scheffer.

Fricker produced his first motorcycle in 1901.

Condor used a number of different engines: in the beginning mainly Zedel, Motosacoche and Moser and later also Villiers.

This light vintage machine has a two speed gearbox, aluminium primary drive cover and AMAC carburettor. Secondary drive is by belt.
