Ducati Mototrans 1962 200cc Elite Frame nr MD80750 Engine nr DM 81472 MD

Considered one of the greatest lightweight sport bikes of the 1950's and 1960's, the Elite was powered by a 200cc single cylinder SOHC engine driving through a four speed gearbox.

The 200 Elite was introduced in 1959, developed by boring the 175-cc motor by 5 mm, to a capacity of 204 cc.

Top speed was boosted to 87 mph, and the 245-pound Elite generated 18 horsepower at 7,500 rpm.

It also wore the jelly mould tank, clip-on bars and dual mufflers of the 175, and both models gained 18-inch wheels.

The engine of the Elite proved practically unbreakable if it was being raced or merely ridden hard.

Good examples of the 200 Elite are hard to find these days, as most owners like to keep them and ride them.

They are also welcome entrants at numerous vintage events.

This Ducati is built under license in Barcelona, Spain by the Mot trans factory and is in many ways similar to the Italian Ducati.

The bike on offer here is restored, well running and will certainly gain admiring glances whether on the road or the show field.
