PRODUCT DESCRIPTION

Husqvarna ca. 1926 model 180 546 cc side valve V-twin frame 211827 engine 3640

Husqvarna started producing motorcycles as early as 1903.

In the beginning FN engines were used, around 1909 this was changed to Moto-Rêve. In the early twenties two models were introduced with their own side valve V-twin engine, of 992 cc and 546 cc capacity, the latter labelled model 180.

At the time American V-twins were very popular sellers in Sweden, so it is no coincidence that the general layout of the model 180 bears a certain resemblance to the famous Indian Scout of the period; the carburettor fitted is an American Schebler, quite rarely seen on a European motorcycle.

This Model 180 is a quality Swedish product, producing some 14 BHP @4000 RPM. Bosch electric lighting is fitted.

This rare Husqvarna is in good unrestored condition.
