PRODUCT DESCRIPTION

1946 INDIAN CHIEF

During the 1940s, Indian attracted customers through color and style.

No other motorcycle looked like the skirtfendered Chief, especially when it came in two-tone color schemes.

This fully dressed Indian Chief is a classic example of American motorcycle design of the post war 1940s.

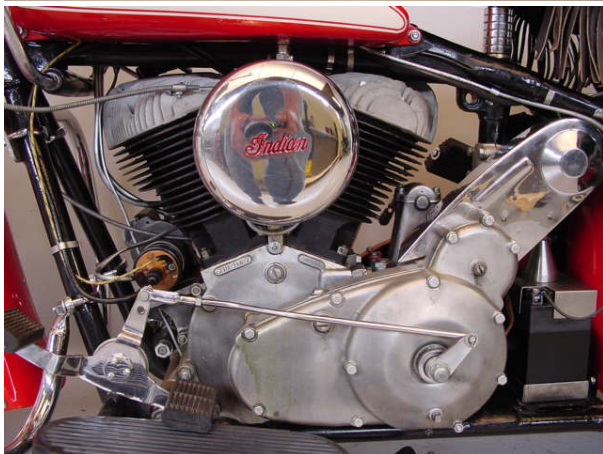

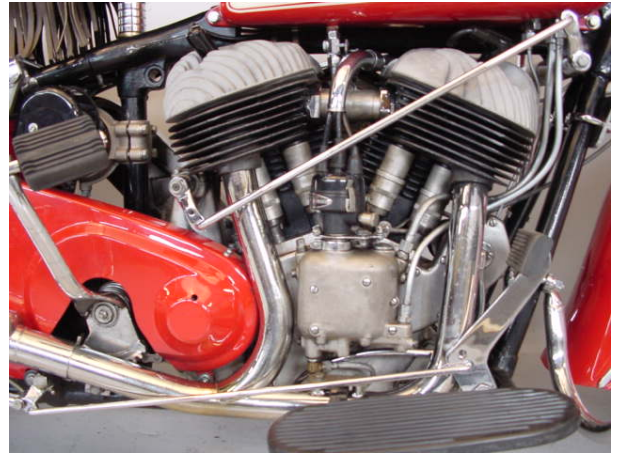

Optional spotlights, chummy seat, leather bags and chrome wheelrims with 16 x 500 tyres are just a few points to highlight this truly eye catching beauty.

This complete and detailed restored Indian Chief is a good companion on the highway and a showpiece at the ice-cream parlour.....

“There is still magic in the name Indian”
