MV Agusta 125S 1978 Frame MV125SE*21801064* Engine 21801080

Although best known for their four-cylinder four-strokes, multiple World Championship-winning MV-Agusta built lightweights throughout its manufacturing career, and in its early days listed small two-strokes and even a scooter.

MV's quarter-litre roadster was completely redesigned for 1975, emerging as the beautiful 125 Sport, surely one of the most attractive four-stroke singles ever made.

An alloy cylinder barrel and electronic ignition are features of the fashionably styled engine, which produces 14bhp at 8,500rpm, good enough for a top speed of around 75mph / 120 kmh.

The unit is housed in a very neat, silver finished, duplex cradle frame equipped with Ceriani forks and Scarab front disc brake.

A full fairing is fitted as an optional extra. This is a very light, sporty and well running MV.
