PRODUCT DESCRIPTION

1934 Sunbeam Lion Longstroke 598 cc side valve single, frame#7B.492.0.1031 engine# 7B.490.1.1163

The Wolverhampton based firm of John Marston earned fame for their superb bicycles in the early years of the last century.

In 1912 their first motorcycle was presented, a 350 cc side valve model (75x 79 bore and stroke) with a 2-speed gearbox.

Soon the capacity was increased to 500cc, and also models with proprietary V-twin engines were made.

Sunbeam motorcycles gained fame for their very high standards of workmanship, their speed and their reliability: races all over Europe were won in the early half of the twenties with machines equipped with the very fast and reliable “ Longstroke” side valve engine with bore/stroke of 77x 105.5 mm.

In June 1930 the Longstroke model was restyled, it got bought-in welded steel petrol and oil tanks. It was designated “ Lion” because the Lion was one of the ICI trademarks.

From September 1930 all Sunbeams got the new Webb-type front forks with centre spring.

In the course of 1931 a 598 cc version of the Lion became available.

This machine had dimensions of 85x105.5 mm.

This reliable, high quality Sunbeam tourer is very suitable for vintage rallies.

It is equipped with Lucas electrics.
